

October 25, 2009

To Whom It May Concern,

I first new Doug Mottin in 2004 when he was in charge of constructing a new putting green and short game practice area at my course, Green Valley Country Club. During the completion of the work I came to see that Doug was not only a talented shaper but also completely dedicated to establishing the best possible working relationship with me and my club. He was willing to do whatever he could to ensure that our expectations were being met.

I was excited when Doug started Mottin Golf because I knew that Doug would establish his company based on his own ideals of quality work, fair price and the best possible customer satisfaction and relationships. This meant that my club and I would have a new, highly qualified contractor available to us. Subsequently we have worked with Mottin Golf and have been more than satisfied with all aspects of the experience.

If you are considering making improvements to your golf course and you need a contractor that you can establish a mutual trust and relationship with then I highly recommend that you call Doug and get to know him and his company. I know you will not be disappointed.

Sincerely,

Sean Remington, Golf Course Superintendent

Green Valley Country Club

